

Dough Kibblers

Shaffer® Dough Kibblers are used to break up dryer dough such as corn masa, cracker, and rotary moulded dough for feeding downstream processing equipment. The Kibbler can process an entire batch of dough by slowly conveying the dough mass through rotating tine cutters, discharging small usable sized (kibbled) dough chunks.

Features

- Production Rates up to 7000 Pounds per Hour: Available on standard kibbler models
- Heavy Duty Stainless Steel Tubular Frame: Mounted on casters
- Stainless Steel Hopper: Sizes from 600 to 3200 pound dough capacity
- Live Bottom Conveyor: The bottom of the hopper is a stainless steel slider bed style conveyor
- Conveyor Belting: Positively driven food-grade belting to feed the dough mass in the hopper into rotating tine cutters
- Dual Stainless Steel Tine Cutters: Two independently driven rotating tine cutter assemblies mounted at the end of the hopper break the dough mass into small chunks
- Variable Speed Control: Conveyor and tine cutters are variable speed for controlling

Optional Features

- Flighted Dough Conveyor: Independent of dough kibbler
- Dough Level Sensor: At the hopper of the process line

dough chunk size and to match downstream dough processing line speed

- Side Guides at Discharge End: To funnel kibbled dough pieces onto a takeaway conveyor
- Designed for Wash Down: NEMA 4X stainless steel operator and electrical enclosures
- UL and cUL Compliant Electrical Controls
- BISSC Certified and ANSI Z 50 Compliant
